ABOUT THE JOURNAL

Aims and Scope

Journal of Modern Science and Innovation (JMSI) is a multidisciplinary, open-access, peer-reviewed journal dedicated to publishing high-quality research across a broad spectrum of scientific disciplines. The journal serves as a global platform for researchers and academicians to share innovative studies and theoretical advancements through the following specialized sections:

- Section 1: Engineering and Technological Sciences (Aerospace, Mechanical, Transportation, and IT systems).
- Section 2: Exact Sciences and Modern Education (Mathematics, Physics, Chemistry, and Innovative Pedagogical methodologies).
- Section 3: Economic and Political Sciences (Global economics, management, international relations, and political theory).
- Section 4: Medical and Biological Sciences (Clinical medicine, biotechnology, life sciences, and healthcare innovations).

Peer Review Policy All submitted manuscripts undergo a rigorous double-blind peer-review process. To ensure the highest academic integrity, each paper is evaluated by at least two independent experts in the relevant field. The review cycle typically takes 2-4 weeks.

Open Access Statement JMSI is a fully Open Access journal. All published content is available immediately upon publication for free. Users are permitted to read, download, copy, and distribute the full texts of articles for academic and non-commercial purposes, fostering the global exchange of knowledge.

Publication Frequency The journal is published three times per year:

1. April Issue
2. August Issue
3. December Issue

Publication Charges JMSI does not charge any Article Processing Charges (APC) or submission fees. The journal is a non-profit academic initiative aimed at providing a free platform for scientists and researchers to publish their original work. All publishing costs are covered by the supporting institution. Publisher and Affiliation The journal is hosted and supported by Tashkent State Transport University, Uzbekistan.
